

CARBONDALE'S SECOND CITY HALL

Carbondale City Hall, 1860-1894. Shown in the foreground of this photograph, taken in August, 1891, is the eastern side of Carbondale's second City Hall. This photograph, the only one known to exist of Carbondale's second City Hall, was published on page four of the July 15, 1981 issue of The Carbondale News. It was there reproduced from the original newspaper clipping, owned by Oliver Shifler, entitled "Tricycles Were Introduced In Carbondale," and was published as the Nostalgia photograph of the week. Also shown in this photograph, in the background on the left, is the Rectory of the Trinity Episcopal Church.
